

Our University

MSB Medical School Berlin is a private, state-approved University with its headquarters in the district of Wilmersdorf in Berlin. Founded in 2012 by its managing director Ilona Renken-Olthoff, with the Faculty of Health Sciences in the first place, the university was launched with six bachelor degree programs, characterized by a strong focus on applied research and practical relevance. The Faculty of Natural Sciences at the MSB offers scientific study courses with university degrees. This faculty and its associated courses were established in 2014, with the support of the Governing Mayor - Senate Chancellery for Science in Berlin. As such, students at MSB can shape their careers based on their individual strengths and talents. At the Faculty of Human Medicine students study Human Medicine in cooperation with the Helios Clinic located in Berlin-Buch. The course meets all the quality requirements of a degree in human medicine in Germany. It leads to the state examination and entitles to practice medicine in Germany.

Mission statement and values of MSB

The MSB mission statement stands for a high degree of individual advancement and social responsibility and for research and teaching beyond one's own disciplinary boundaries. The MSB mission statement further stands for the promotion of a mindful attitude towards oneself and fellow human beings as fundamental principles of interdisciplinary research, teaching and learning. This makes MSB a place for personal and professional development for all university members.

A flourishing career and professional development at the MSB

The philosophy of the MSB is based on the growing demand for qualified specialists in the health care sector. We offer highly innovative and market-oriented degrees focusing on health and medicine in order to master the emerging challenges of the interdisciplinary health care sector. In addition to the transfer of foundational skills and trans-professional expertise, our study courses predominantly focus on specific technical skill development. At the same time, these also represent future fields of work. Through this combination, we seek to give dynamic and performance-oriented students the best possible chance to prepare for their future career perspectives of the growing health care sector of tomorrow.

Exclusive environment in Germany's capital

The MSB has different campuses in Berlin: Our main university campus is located at Rüdeshheimer Straße 50, in the central and characteristic district of Wilmersdorf. The historical campus and the beautiful park as well as the numerous lecture rooms and work spaces offer a unique learning atmosphere. The second campus is located in Berlin Lankwitz district. The Siemens Villa is a historical building and offers students stucco-decorated seminar rooms, a magnificent lecture hall and a park. Furthermore, seminars take place at the MSB campus in Berlin-Mitte at Leipziger Platz next to Postdamer Platz, which is the best-known and most vibrant city square in Berlin. Other lectures are held at Mecklenburgische Straße in Berlin-Wilmersdorf near the main building. The clinical part of the Human Medicine program is hosted at the Helios Clinic in Berlin-Buch in the North of the city.
